

Thursday Photos

Each Thursday you will have to turn in one photo in jpg file format only. Photos should be submitted online through Google Classroom and are due by the end of day Thursday (or Weds. if ) for credit. Each photo should be based on the topic for that week. Each photo will be worth 5 points. There are no right answers, the topics are broad and open to interpretation consciously. Every Friday we will have a slide show and vote on the photo that you like best for each period, thus there will be one winner per period. This winner will get 2.5 points extra credit per win and have their photo displayed in the class AND posted on the tohsphotography website. If you ever get stuck or creative block and do not know what to take a photo of, it is better to turn in something rather than nothing.

REMEMBER: no old photos and clearly, no photos that you did not take yourself as this is plagiarism and will be taken very seriously. Academic dishonesty will have consequences. You will receive a "0" on the assignment, and you will be placed on academic probation, and you have the potential to be drop failed from the class, so think carefully. It is better to turn in not your best work or nothing at all than to plagiarize and take credit for someone else's work. Photos that are taken last minute in the classroom or ones that are blurry will NOT be accepted for credit. It is your responsibility to make sure your photos are clear, so take them early and check them on the computer, as sometimes on the camera what looks clear may not be.

I have reviewed these topics with my son or daughter and we both understand that each photo is worth 5 points and that blurry or old photographs will not be accepted for credit. We also discussed and understand that plagiarism is punishable and will not be tolerated. We understand that these Thursday photos will comprise a large portion of the second semester grade and, therefore, should be taken seriously and effort should be used in creating them. We also understand that NO LATE PHOTOS WILL BE ACCEPTED and understand that if my son or daughter is absent he or she can still upload the photo to Google Classroom if they want credit. We discussed that examples of past Thursday photos are available at the class website at tohsphotography.weebly.com.
